

Brief:

For many families in India who have children needing specialized support (like for learning, speech, or focus challenges), finding help is a huge source of stress. The numbers are urgent: about 1 in 8 Indian children face a developmental challenge, yet finding a safe, qualified professional is like searching a messy, disorganized maze.

This lack of one trusted source means families waste months, delaying the vital therapy and education their child needs to succeed.

The Solution: One Central, Smart Connector

We want to build a digital hub that is completely dedicated to making this process easy and trustworthy. We are not the therapists or tutors; we are the smart system that instantly connects families to the best help in their area.

We do this in two different ways, depending on where the parent is in their journey:

For New, Overwhelmed Parents: We give you a lifeline. Our app offers a simple step-by-step guide and a library of clear, easy-to-read articles. This helps you know exactly what to do first, moving you from panic to a clear first step.

For Experienced, Busy Parents: Our app becomes a secure, private hub for coordination. You can easily share important documents like the child's IEP (Individualized Education Program) with their existing teachers and therapists, ensuring everyone stays connected and organized.

Our Plan to Make it Last (The Funding Model)

The basic service of finding resources is always free for families. We keep this system strong and scalable by getting paid for the efficiency we create for professionals:

1. School/Institution Fees: We sell special digital tools to schools that help their staff handle complicated paperwork (like student learning plans) quickly and accurately using smart features (AI).
2. Provider Success Fees: Local therapists and clinics pay us a small fee only when we send them a perfectly matched, ready-to-start patient, saving them marketing time, and they pay us for the quality referral.

Problem: For families with children who need special support, for learning, speech, or focus, finding help in India is really hard. There's still stigma, low awareness, and very few trusted professionals. Even though 1 in 8 children need this support, most parents don't know where to start, and end up feeling lost and delaying the help their child needs.

Solution: We're building a digital hub that simplifies how parents of children with special needs access care and information. Our platform brings together verified therapists, personalized student profiling, and secure IEP sharing — all in one place. By combining trusted resources, community support, and guidance in regional languages, we make it easier for families to find the right help faster, reduce stigma, and ensure every child gets timely, specialized support.

Value Proposition:

We empower families of children with special needs to access the right care, faster. By bringing verified professionals, personalized student insights, and community-driven support onto one trusted digital platform, we replace confusion and stigma with clarity and confidence. Unlike scattered WhatsApp groups or generic healthcare apps, we offer a structured, transparent, and inclusive ecosystem that ensures every child gets the help they need — when they need it.
